Dear parish family,

Epiphany of the Lord

Once again we hear the wonderful story of the Magi who didn't mind all the travails, hardships and the dangers of the long journey in search of the newborn child. Nor were they disappointed when they found him in a lowly place. They were driven not in any selfish motives but purely by their desire to pay homage to one they believed as the Promised One. And find fulfillment and meaning in doing so.

Our desire and motivation in coming to Sunday Mass should be the same with that of the Magi. Unfortunately many in our time have a variety of excuses and reasons not to come to pay homage to the Lord even for an hour on Sundays. We hear from some people say, "I don't get a lot out of the Mass" or "I really don't get anything out of this Church." As in every other aspect of life, when we are looking to "get", we receive little. When we are looking to "give" we receive more than we ever expected. If we are looking to get, there won't be much there. But if we are concerned with giving, then the Lord will shower us with his gifts. We shouldn't be coming to Mass for what we can get out of it. Rather we should be concerned with what we bring to it, our right attitude in worship.

Like the Magi, we come before the Lord with gifts, the gifts of ourselves. We come to do Him homage, to reverence His presence. We come to present Him with our emptiness and humbly ask Him to fill us. The Magi completed a journey that ended in Bethlehem (which means in Hebrew – House of Bread) and they returned to their homelands having a sense of fulfillment and meaning of what they did.

We are in a journey throughout our lives seeking meaning, fulfillment and love. We come before Him in His Church, or among His People, including those who need us the most. We journey for new ways to give the Lord our reverence and love. Our gifts are absolutely nothing in comparison to what we already received from the Lord. An hour and a half of our day in a week, a portion of our income doesn't measure up to what the Lord God has given us. We have so little to offer the Lord yet He gives us so much more in return beyond measure.

We should only be concerned with seeking the Lord, encountering His presence, doing Him homage, and giving ourselves to Him. If we follow the Magi in this way, then we will be wise women and wise men indeed before the eyes of God.

Like the Magi what should really matter to us is our determination to worship the true Savior and bring him our gifts – gold of our love, the incense of our prayers and praise, the myrrh of our sacrifices and sufferings for His sake. Only in this way that we can truly acknowledge the Lord and Savior and making ourselves pleasing to Him.

Happy feast day of the Epiphany and have a good week! Fr. Tony

Querida familia parroquial,

Epifanía del Señor

Una vez más, escuchamos la maravillosa historia de los Reyes Magos que no tuvieron en cuenta todas las tribulaciones, las dificultades y los peligros del largo viaje en busca del recién nacido. Tampoco se decepcionaron cuando lo encontraron en un lugar humilde. No fueron impulsados por ningún motivo egoísta, sino puramente por su deseo de rendir homenaje a alguien que creían como el Prometido. Y encontraron satisfacción y significado al hacerlo.

Nuestro deseo y motivación al venir a la misa dominical debería ser el mismo que el de los Reyes Magos. Desafortunadamente, muchos en nuestro tiempo tienen una variedad de excusas y razones para no venir a rendir homenaje al Señor, incluso durante una hora los domingos. Algunas personas nos dicen: "No saco mucho de la Misa" o "Realmente no saco nada de esta Iglesia". Como en cualquier otro aspecto de la vida, cuando estamos buscando "obtener", Recibimos poco. Cuando buscamos "dar", recibimos más de lo que esperábamos. Si estamos buscando llegar, no habrá mucho allí. Pero si nos preocupa dar, entonces el Señor nos derramará sus regalos. No deberíamos venir a la misa por lo que podemos obtener de ella. Más bien deberíamos preocuparnos por lo que le traemos, nuestra actitud correcta en la adoración.

Al igual que los Reyes Magos, venimos ante el Señor con regalos, los dones de nosotros mismos. Venimos a hacerle un homenaje, a reverenciar su presencia. Venimos a presentarle nuestro vacío y humildemente le pedimos que nos llene. Los Reyes Magos completaron un viaje que terminó en Belén (que significa en hebreo - Casa del Pan) y regresaron a sus tierras natales teniendo una sensación de plenitud y sentido de lo que hicieron.

Estamos en un viaje a lo largo de nuestras vidas buscando significado, satisfacción y amor. Venimos ante Él en Su Iglesia, o entre Su Pueblo, incluidos aquellos que más nos necesitan. Viajamos por nuevas formas de darle al Señor nuestra reverencia y amor. Nuestros dones no son nada en comparación con lo que ya recibimos del Señor. Una hora y media de nuestro día en una semana, una porción de nuestros ingresos no está a la altura de lo que el Señor Dios nos ha dado. Tenemos muy poco que ofrecer al Señor, sin embargo, Él nos da mucho más a cambio sin medida.

Solo deberíamos preocuparnos por buscar al Señor, encontrar Su presencia, rendirle homenaje y entregarnos a Él. Si seguimos a los Reyes Magos de esta manera, entonces seremos hombres y mujeres sabios ante los ojos de Dios. Al igual que los Reyes Magos, lo que realmente debería importarnos es nuestra determinación de adorar al verdadero Salvador y traerle nuestros dones: oro de nuestro amor, el incienso de nuestras oraciones y alabanzas, la mirra de nuestros sacrificios y sufrimientos por él. Solo de esta manera podemos verdaderamente reconocer al Señor y Salvador: complaciéndolo a Él.

¡Feliz día de fiesta de la Epifanía y que tengas una buena semana!

P. Tony
